

Front Groups of Scientology/Sea Organisation

Keenly aware that their main brands of Dianetics and Scientology are tarnished with the decades long list of misdeeds, a web of deceptively named front groups has been created for the three purposes of:

- Make the Name of L Ron Hubbard more acceptable within society
- Gain political influence and affect policy to aid dissemination of Scientology/Dianetics
- Raise money through soliciting donations

Often the front groups appear to be disconnected from Scientology, at least on a company registration level, a little more research though does in fact reveal the connections.

- Company directors are all Scientologists
- The organisation relies heavily upon the written works of L Ron Hubbard, for which a per use licence fee is payable (to Scientology's copyright holding company)
- Groups often push an agenda identical to that of Scientology
- Organisations use the "Purification Rundown" as part of medical treatments

An independent study of the Purification Rundown was proposed in 1985 by Dr. Joseph Miceli, Associate Professor of Paediatrics and Pharmacy, Children's Hospital of Michigan.

Dr. Miceli's proposal suggested that the method might actually have some value in reducing toxins (PBBs and PCBs) from the body - but not for any of the reasons suggested by its author, L. Ron Hubbard. However, the Human Subject Review Committee at Wayne State University refused to allow the study to proceed because it was deemed unfit for human experimentation, according to Dr. Doug Spathelf, research director at Central Michigan University, and Dr. Daniel Graf, research director at Wayne State University.

STERLING MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS - a management and consulting firm that lures businesses in with "management" seminars, and then steers them to Hubbard and Scientology courses.

Nothing shows how far across corporate lines the Sea Org Missions can extend than their takeover of a for-profit organization, Sterling Management, in 1986. Located in Southern California, Sterling Management promotes itself as a business advisory group, helping small businesses to become more successful. They are not part of the Church of Scientology. But they are a member of the World Institute of Scientology Enterprises (WISE) and thus are on the "Command Channels of Scientology" in the lower right hand corner as a "WISE Unit." Although they are a for-profit enterprise that claims to be totally independent from Scientology, they were the target of two Sea Org Missions sent from the Commodore's Messenger Organization (CMO) in 1986." - Declaration of Robert Vaughn Young 1999
